

SII Deutschland
Engineering & IT

Ihre Karrierechance als

Head of Office of Airworthiness (m/w/d)

Im Bereich Project & Process Management / Management und Führungskräfte

ARBEITSORT

- 82205 - Gilching (Bayern)

AUFGABEN

- One of your main tasks is the coordination and oversight of all tasks related to Type Investigation in concurrence with internal stakeholders and the competent authority
- You monitor rulemaking activities and incorporation of regulatory changes to the design organisation manual, procedures, and forms
- This includes ensuring the completeness and currentness of the design management system
- You advise the departments in all questions regarding airworthiness, operational suitability, environmental protection approvals and certification
- The preparation of the certification program in close cooperation with the engineering department, the compliance verification engineers, and the competent authority is also in your responsibility
- You check that the compliance documents are prepared as necessary to demonstrate compliance with the certification program and release of the documents
- You execute internal design organisation training regarding design management system and regulations
- One of your tasks is also ensuring the initiation of activities in response to a failure evaluation (accident/ incident/ in-service occurrence) and to complaints from the operation, and providing information to the competent authority if airworthiness or operational suitability are impaired
- You will take care of the preparation of audits required by the authorities and participation at internal and external audits
- You execute of the independent checking function, and you support to management of the design organisation

QUALIFIKATIONEN

- You have a Master's degree in aeronautical engineering or comparable technical qualification
- Proven track record as head of office of airworthiness or airworthiness office engineer resp. certification engineer is part of your profile
- You have strong expertise in the field of aircraft type certificate modification
- You can demonstrate thorough knowledge of EASA Part-21 as well as the certification specifications 23, 25, 27 & 29
- Well-developed analytical and assessment skills are required to judge probable airworthiness risk
- Very good command of English language is necessary in this international environment. German language skills are welcome
- Personally, you have a very structured way of working, assertiveness, initiative, resilience and strong teamwork and communication skills

ANSPRECHPARTNER

Bei Fragen zu dieser Position wenden Sie sich bitte an:

SII Deutschland GmbH

Jessica Lindlein

Tel: +49 (0) 172 10 260 57